Alleluia! He is Risen!

Excerpted from an editorial in America, April 1, 2013, www.americamagazine.org, used with permission.

Our world still needs to hear the Easter proclamation; it longs to hear it, yearns for the freedom it signifies. Yet if our Easter proclamation is to convey the transformative power it bespeaks, then the heralds must be first in faith, repentance and reform. The Easter proclamation is no mere philosophical or theological proposition. It is the beating heart of a living body or it is nothing. Like Mary Magdalene's, our proclamation must flow from burning, faithful hearts. The disillusioned, weary world that waits in the upper room demands an authentic witness, a credibility that love alone provides. The world must see our salty tears, must sense our breathless hope. They must know that we are not simply vain clangling cymbals in the din of modern life, but the heralds of another person, the One who comes to us in the silence, the creator for whom we long and in whom we dare to hope. If we fail to account for the joy that is within us, then we will have failed to proclaim the risen Lord. In the absence of joy, moreover, a joy that only comes from the one who is truth, then all our other truths are ultimately unintelligible.

Used with permission from holidaypictures.org

In his first homily as successor of St. Peter, Pope Francis said that “to walk, build and confess without the cross means that we are not true disciples of the Lord. We must confess the one cross, and in that way we will be a true church.” Like Mary Magdalene, our discipleship must be in motion. “Our life is a path,” the pope said. “When we stop, the thing doesn’t go.”

In Pope Francis, it seems, the Lord has a herald in deed as well as in word. His first gestures as pope proved deeply moving to millions of observers; prayers for Pope Emeritus Benedict XVI united Catholics all over the world; then—before he offered the traditional blessing urbi et orbi, “to the city and the world,” upon the people gathered below him—came a touching request from the new pope for a “favor,” a blessing from the assembled faithful that again united Catholics in a captivating silence. Pope Francis reminded us that our Easter proclamation must not only be heard, it must be seen in humble acts of loving service.

This Easter, then, we give thanks to the Lord for Pope Francis, while we also remember that the latest successor of St. Peter is but one among the billions of successors of St. Mary Magdalene. This Easter we once more join our voices with hers, as we herald among the far and near, amid the untold terrors of earthly life, the good news that is the final hope of the world: “Alleluia! He is risen!”

MISSION STATEMENT

Holy Trinity is a Catholic parish sponsored by the Society of Jesus. We share the Society's mission to serve the faith and to promote justice. As disciples of Christ, we seek to be transformed by the Holy Spirit through our celebration of Eucharist and our practice of Ignatian spirituality into a welcoming and prayerful community that shares God's life and love with each other and the world.

From the Pastor's Desk

Easter greetings!

At the core of Ignatian spirituality, that distinctive way that Jesuits and their colleagues understand and approach God and the world, are the Spiritual Exercises of St. Ignatius.

The Exercises are a series of meditations based on Ignatius' own experience of his dynamic relationship with God. They are designed to clear the way for one to encounter the living Jesus, to freely choose to accompany him in his work in the world, and to grow in personal relationship with him. In doing these meditations, one is expected to pray with all of oneself, not just by using one's intellect, but also by using one's imagination, one's emotions, and even one's senses, trusting that God is communicating through each of these.

Ignatius asks the one doing the Exercises to let the Gospel come alive, to watch, for example, as Jesus asks the blind Bartimaeus what he wants from him, and then cures Bartimaeus of his blindness; or to listen as Jesus calls Zacchaeus out of the sycamore tree so that he can have dinner with him. Ignatius asks the retreatant to be open to the possibility that Jesus will in turn ask her what she wants, or that Jesus will call the retreatant out of the tree and ask him to be his companion.

Accordingly, during the third "week" of the Exercises, Ignatius asks the retreatant to "see" the place where Jesus was crucified, to be with him as he dies, to feel his sorrow, and to share his anguish and his pain. Ignatius' hope is that the retreatant will feel a profound intimacy with Jesus as he dies.

Finally, as the retreatant nears the end of the Exercises, Ignatius asks that he or she meditate on the resurrection of Jesus. Ignatius tells the retreatant to ask for the grace –to be glad and rejoice intensely with the risen Jesus, that is, to be enabled to share in the joy that Jesus himself must have felt upon being raised up.

If the Exercises are working as Ignatius intends, and if God has been gracious to the retreatant, the retreatant will finish the Exercises not only with an increased familiarity with Jesus and his ways, but also and more importantly, with a deep, heartfelt affection for him.

On this Easter Sunday, my prayer and the prayers of Fr. Ryan, Fr. John, and Fr. Sam, and all the staff of Holy Trinity Church and School are that you and your family feel the joy of the risen Jesus. May he wipe away all your tears; may he destroy all your fears; may he heal any injury you may have suffered at the hands of the Evil One; and may he fill you with hope for your own rising.

-Fr. Mark

IGNATIAN SPIRITUALITY & PRAYER

Would You Support a Woman on Retreat?

Twelve women will be on retreat at Loyola Retreat House in Faulkner, MD, at the end of April. Each woman is in recovery from addictions and homelessness. When each woman arrives in her own room at the retreat house, she finds a hospitality bag, filled with items to show our care for her.

Each bag contains travel size shampoo, conditioner, hand and body cream, a toothbrush and toothpaste, Kleenex, a journal and pen, a small stuffed animal, a Bible, and a note letting the woman know we are praying for her.

If you would like to make a hospitality bag for a woman, please bring it to the receptionist's desk at the parish center to the attention of Martina O'Shea on or before Friday, April 17th.

The retreat will be facilitated in conjunction with the Ignatian Spirituality Project (ISP). The ISP is a Jesuit ministry that seeks to end homelessness through offering retreats in the Ignatian tradition. For more information, please contact www.info@ignatianspiritualityproject.org

It is because we think either of the past or of the future that we become discouraged.

SOCIAL JUSTICE

Fall in Love

Nothing is more practical than finding God, than falling in Love

in a quite absolute, final way.

What you are in love with, what seizes your imagination,

will affect everything.

It will decide

what will get you out of bed in the morning,

what you do with your evenings,

how you spend your weekends,

what you read, whom you know,

what breaks your heart,

and what amazes you with joy and gratitude.

Fall in Love, stay in love,

and it will decide everything.
