

HOLY TRINITY CATHOLIC CHURCH

Washington, DC

September 26, 2021

The HT Migrant Team and the "familia" gather together for their annual fiesta

Towards an Ever Wide 'We': Faces of the HT Migrant Familia

Today, September 26, is World Day of Migrants and Refugees. The primary theme for the day is "Towards an ever wider 'WE.'" In his letter announcing this year's theme, Pope Francis emphasizes that "this focus calls on us to ensure that after all this, we will think no longer in terms of 'them' and 'those,' but only 'us.'" And this universal us must become a reality first of all within the Church which is called to cultivate communion in diversity.

The Holy Trinity Migrant Team, led by parishioner Jeanne Rossomme, celebrates three years this fall. While primarily a direct service team, the parishioners involved stay rooted in prayer and in social justice and work to address the root issues that cause many to flee their homes. The Migrant Team emerged following our parish support of the Cheikho family and was launched with Mario F. Today, the team accompanies 11 individuals and families, many joining our migrant familia during the pandemic.

Bernadette & Marie were referred to us by their lawyers from the Georgetown Law Center right before the COVID shutdown. Bernadette was an advocate for human rights in her home country of Gabon — work that caused her to be persecuted and then flee to the U.S. When we first met Bernadette, she was in a temporary basement apartment, had lost her work and was struggling to get groceries and a birthday gift for her then 5 year-old daughter Marie. In this past year, Bernadette has won her asylum case, moved into a beautiful apartment in Silver Spring close to jobs and transportation, and was the top student in her English classes. Marie is an amazing little girl with mastery of all her classes and now extremely excited to attend her school program in person.

Enrique and Yosselin fled the drug violence in Honduras in 2019 with their four boys. The family arrived at the Kino Border Initiative, having made their way through Guatemala and Mexico on foot and bus as part of the migrant caravan. COVID-19 has made their lives very uncertain. The team

LIVING OUR MISSION

Rest in Jesus

By Anne Marie Kaufmann

“Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest. Take my yoke upon you and learn from me, for I am meek and humble of heart; and you will find rest for yourselves.” Mt 11:28-29

These words of Jesus recorded in the Gospel of Matthew speak to our deep need for Jesus Christ. It is in and through Jesus that we will find true rest and from whom we learn to know and love God. They are a passage that I return to often and give me reason to pause and breathe as we settle into fall.

These past several weeks have seen a new kind of busyness, certainly for me, and I think for many of us. The return to school full time and the resumption of many activities, while bringing the needed connection that was severed by months of confinement, have thrust us back into a world of sometimes frenzied activity.

In my most recent work of ministry before joining the staff at Holy Trinity, I spent much of my time serving those who sought help for past due bills or food for their families. Their immediate needs were material. Yet their burdens ran deeper: not having legal status, addiction, mental illness, or loneliness.

As I grew to know certain people well, I realized that while we sought to address material needs, we also in some way had to address these deeper needs. I also realized that this was much more difficult. So, I kept in front of me Jesus' invitation to come and rest in him written on a small wooden board, because it is Jesus Christ who gives us true life, the living water that never runs dry. I needed rest, and those I grew to know needed a rest that only God could provide.

This inner desire to help others encounter Christ so that we might learn from him and find rest brought me to Holy Trinity. I had worked in faith formation for many years prior to my work in outreach ministries, and I felt called to return to the work of catechesis. Ironically, I've had little rest lately, as I've been very busy these past several weeks! And yet I know that Jesus still invites me amid this busyness to rest with him.

If we are open to God's inner nudges, God will take us into deeper waters, not to overwhelm us but to meet our innermost desires and so draw us closer to him. My current learning curve is steep, but I do not journey alone. Both colleagues and parishioners have offered necessary guidance and support. Thank you!

Also, I'm here to serve you. While faith formation builds our knowledge of our Catholic faith, it has at its heart an encounter with Jesus Christ. My hope is that our faith formation programs will provide many opportunities for you to encounter Christ and to experience his love and grace.

Since each of us faces our own burdens, I invite you to spend time resting in Jesus this week. Read Scripture, take a walk through a nearby garden or wooded area, or sit quietly in your favorite chair. Pray and ask the Lord to be with you. He will come and carry your burdens, for the words he speaks are true: “Come to me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest.”

DAILY MASS INTENTIONS

The parish community prays for all of the dead every day at Mass. However, we encourage parishioners to mention specific persons by name during the General Intercessions when invited to do so by the presider.

Parishioners may also request that a specific person be remembered by name at a particular weekday Mass by calling or visiting the receptionist's desk in the Parish Center during normal office hours.

Names must be submitted one week in advance. Persons to be so remembered at weekday Masses this week are:

continues to provide support with housing, medical care, legal support through Just Neighbors, educational support and food insecurity. The family is so excited each week to see the abundant groceries with milk, meat, fresh fruits, and vegetables and the occasional “goodie.” With help from the parishioner transport team, the boys took swimming lessons and summer enrichment classes. Thanks to the generosity of Dr. Culotta-Norton, the boys are getting much needed dental care. (Most of our families have never had formal dental care.)

Etienne and Olga along with their four beautiful children have navigated this year of pandemic quite well despite ongoing economic hardships. And there have been many angels at work. First, a nonprofit organization offered to send them a substantial rent subsidy for six months. Next, a generous Holy Trinity family gave the Mbalas their gently used car. Additionally, Holy Trinity parishioners and Catholic Charities have been donating nutritious food for the family on a weekly basis. Olga has done an incredible job of ensuring that their three older children, Jolcy (age 8), Christina (age 7), and Joldony (age 5), actively participated in “Zoom School,” while keeping toddler Blessing (2) occupied. Olga has also reached the last level of the English as a Second Language program and is hoping to find a part time job in a grocery store or other retail establishment. Etienne, who was a criminal and civil rights lawyer in his home country, has been searching for better paying work over the past year.

Mario F. is a young man seeking asylum after fleeing Nicaragua. Mario is sponsored by a family at Holy Trinity, and his hearing date is scheduled for 2024. Our Migrant Fund supported Mario’s basic living (clothing, housing, food, transportation) and medical/dental care through May of 2020. Now gainfully employed by a local tech company, Mario is thriving. He is an active member of the team, generously donating his time to counsel new members on the challenges and opportunities they face. Mario is an active member of Our Lady Queen of the Americas, often playing guitar at Mass. He is a volunteer at the Washington English Center which assists new immigrants in improving their English skills. Thanks to new parishioners, Ryan and Natalia, Mario is also the proud owner of a car.

Mario J. is also a young man who fled Nicaragua after protesting the injustices of the current president. Representing himself, he won his asylum case after one year in U.S. detention in June of this year. Hard working with boundless energy, Mario has been working 6-7 days per week at a landscaping firm to pay off his debts in arriving here, as well as to save for the future. The team has helped Mario with clothing and other basic necessities as well as friendship and support. He now has a steady job, a car and is working with a parishioner referred pro-bono lawyer to get in his green card application.

Yanilson (Lino) is Garifuna, a descendant of an Afro-Indigenous population from St. Vincent. Racial prejudice is strong in Honduras, and the dark-skinned Garifuna children are segregated from the lighter skinned or “white” children in Honduran schools, given fewer resources, and taunted and bullied by white children and teachers alike. For Lino, more bullying and abuse came in adolescence as he was assigned female at birth and now identifies as a transgender male. After years of abuse, Lino fled when thugs sent fire to his mother’s house. Crossing the border brought additional poor treatment because of Lino’s gender identity during his seven months at a women’s detention center in El Paso. Fortunately, a Maryknoll Lay Missioner and attorney took on Yanilson’s case and contacted a generous Maryland couple who agreed to pay his bond and serve as his sponsors. After living the first months in the shelter at Casa Ruby, where he celebrated his 19th birthday, he has now moved to an apartment. The Holy Trinity Migrant Team helped him obtain donated furniture, provided much-needed housewares, and continues to supply food. Much still lies ahead for Lino — finding a job, learning English, gaining asylum — but he is optimistic. Recently, his siblings, nieces and nephew joined him. The team is working to find affordable housing for the family in Maryland.

Julien Patrick joined our familia in the spring. Formally in Catholic seminary, Julien Patrick had to flee his home country of Cameroon, making the treacherous journey from Ecuador by foot to the border. The migrant team has connected him with housing, food, legal help, a pro-bono therapist (who is helping him with the difficult things he has seen and experienced) and various doctors. Julien Patrick’s faith and positivity, despite his many hardships, have quickly endeared him to many in his new family here. He is very busy volunteering at Holy Trinity and is involved with the choir and many other activities. He is teaching French to children in Ecuador as a way of paying back those who helped him.

Hadia is the newest member of our family and was referred to us by a law student at Georgetown University. She is an extraordinary activist who has repeatedly advocated for women’s rights and democracy in Afghanistan on television, podcasts, and online, including on BBC News and Twitter. Though just 25, she directs an Afghan democracy nonprofit, worked for a prestigious international research organization, and has worked for open debate and equal rights through several nonprofits. She fled Afghanistan after months of death threats by the Taliban, who have killed members of her religious and ethnic minority family. Hadia is currently living in an apartment provided by a parishioner while the team identifies affordable and secure housing. It is no surprise that last month Hadia tirelessly volunteered with an Afghan refugee aid effort at an Adams Morgan Afghan restaurant.

In a meeting with AsylumWorks over the summer, we shared that this work happens because of the Holy Spirit and the generosity of this community. We want to acknowledge the generosity of Attache Corporate Housing, Dr. Robert Cheron, Ron Castaldi, Dr. Culotta-Norton, Dr. Marc Connell, members of the parish who continue to help us address medical and housing needs and donate groceries, clothing, and cars.

As we emerge from the restrictions and desolations of COVID, our families continue to struggle, but with hope. Please keep our families and parishioners in your prayers.✝
