Fifth Sunday of Lent

A Place to Belong: The Holy Trinity Young Adult Community

By Annie McAuliffe,
Young Adult Community Steering Committee

When I returned home to the DC area from time in Jesuit spaces in Philadelphia, Boston, and the Federated States of Micronesia, I was blessed to be greeted with open arms by new colleagues, old friends, and of course my family. But like many in our parish community with similar experience, my years away from the place in which I had grown up had a profound impact on my experience of my Catholic faith; and I could now more clearly articulate what I needed from a faith community. That second part, community, was now crucial. Until I had spent time living in intentionally Catholic communities, I had not realized how much my soul craved a communal experience of prayer and liturgy. I could not be satisfied by treating Mass like a standing appointment I had with God, so I set out to find a parish with a thriving young adult community with whom I could share the highs and lows of my walk with God (which we do every Thursday night at Young Adult Community (YAC) Faith Sharing). Even when the lows are low, board game nights, brunch, and post-Mass/faith sharing drinks with the YACs help a lot.

The next non-negotiable that stemmed directly from my time away was that I had experienced Catholic communities for whom the celebration of Mass and the Eucharist were inextricably tied to both justice and transformative relationships with the vulnerable and marginalized. One fueled the other, and they could never be separated. I knew that for my spiritual life to flourish here in DC, I would have to seek out a community for whom this connection also rang true. Cut to my first ever YAC event—a Theology on Tap at which Brian Flanagan taught us about how the Creation stories in Genesis can direct us to a deeper appreciation for the human dignity of LGBTQIA+ Catholics, and I knew I had found a community that values what I do. Since then, the YACs have also blessed me with the opportunity to have transformative relationships with members of the Migrant Familia through mentoring, volunteering with transportation, and participating with YACs in the Archdiocese’s public procession to commemorate the World Day of Migrants and Refugees.

The final caveat that the Holy Trinity YAC community satisfied for me was that I needed to be a part of a Catholic community that places real value on women’s voices and leadership. Through my involvement with the YACs, I was offered the opportunity to offer a reflection at a Taizé prayer service during Advent in 2025. I was also blessed to attend and take notes at a fruitful and lively parish listening session on the topic of women in ministry. My experiences and my encounters as a YAC have inspired an abiding and realistic hope that we are a community in the process of working great good in our world and in our Church. Peers of mine who approach the Church with caution due to past negative experiences often voice both an authentic longing for God as well as similar desires to mine: a faith community that puts a real premium on the community part, an explicit connection between faith and justice, and a Church committed to uplifting marginalized voices. To them I would say, “come and see.” Especially as Washington DC can be such a transient place for those of us in our 20s and 30s, why not experience a vibrant and dynamic young adult community committed to something that remains constant: God’s steadfast and transformative love.

Registration for the spring YAC retreat is now open, taking place at Loyola University Maryland retreat center in Flintstone, MD on April 11-12. (Register at trinity.org/yac-retreat by March 29) See you there!

IGNATIAN CORNER

The Ignatian Presupposition

By Jane Vourlekis, Ignatian Spirituality & Jesuit Identity Committee

It seems almost daily I catch myself presuming something about someone without knowing the full details of their viewpoint, life situation, and more. In professional music spaces, we are trained to focus on who is “the best” and “the worst” player. When I was switching to viola, the cellist considered me “the worst” in my string quartet and consistently gave me rude feedback. Unsure of how to respond, the rest of us let her control the group dynamic that whole semester and presumed the cellist was “mean.” Looking back, I wonder what our experience would have been like that semester, had we known about St. Ignatius’ Presupposition.

St. Ignatius’ most pivotal statement in his Presupposition is that “... it should be presupposed that every good Christian ought to be more eager to put a good interpretation on a neighbor’s statement than to condemn it” (Spiritual Exercises 22). While the Presupposition was originally written within the context of the Spiritual Exercises, it can guide any human interaction, including those through conversation, writing, and actions. In my example, checking in with the cellist about her expectations and sharing why I was struggling would have been St. Ignatius’ first step towards creating a more empathetic rehearsal environment. Implementing the Presupposition generally follows these specific, ordered steps: ask clarifying questions (sometimes of oneself), correct with love as needed, and collaborate on solutions effectively.

Ultimately, the Presupposition is more than just a tool; it’s a conscious way to walk through life. Reflecting on my quartet’s experience reminds me that I am not truly eager to understand a peer all the time. That said, I have been more eager to understand since participating in a Presupposition workshop and joining the Young Adult Community (YACs). If you are eager to learn more about the Presupposition, I encourage you to attend a workshop. Scan the QR code at right for more information:

YOUNG ADULT SPRING RETREAT

What Next? Navigating Transitions with Faith
April 11-12; Registration deadline: March 29

Transitions in life are inevitable and provide challenges for all of us. Retreatants are invited to reflect on their Good Friday, Holy Saturday and Easter Sunday moments, and on the tools our faith provides for growth as we navigate change and wait in hope for God's promises to be fulfilled in our lives. Reflect individually and in small groups, listen to the experiences of a team of young adults, meet new friends, and celebrate the Sacraments, including Sunday Mass. For more info or to register, see trinity.org/yac-retreat. Contact the hospitality minister, Richard, at yacs+retreat@trinity.org with questions.

ARE YOU CALLED TO SERVE THE SOCIAL JUSTICE COMMITTEE?

We are recruiting now for new members for the Social Justice Committee. Are you able to serve 3 years beginning May 2026; attend monthly meetings (mostly virtual!) in the evenings; advise on social justice issues at the parish and make connections with other ministry groups; identify opportunities to support increased awareness of CST; and participate in Social Justice activities throughout the year? If you answered, "yes," you may be called to serve on the committee. E-mail aklick@trinity.org and briefly share why you would be an impactful addition to the committee! Interviews by current committee members will be held in May.

MISSION STATEMENT

We are a Jesuit Catholic parish that welcomes all to accompany one another in Christ, celebrate God's love and transform lives.

NEW PARISHIONER REGISTRATION

Welcome to Holy Trinity! We invite you to join our parish. You may register at www.trinity.org/register or scan the QR code using your phone:

ORDER OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION

The Order of Christian Initiation of Adults (OCIA) is a process of conversion and faith formation for individuals who are interested in living the Christian life in the Catholic tradition. Those who want to learn more about the possibility of becoming Catholic are welcome to come to the Inquiry meetings held every Tuesday evening at 7pm in the Faber Room, Holy Trinity Parish Center. Please contact Anne Koester at akoester@trinity.org or (202) 903-2825. Holy Trinity also offers OCIA adapted for children and youth who are not Baptized (ages 7 through high school). Please contact Anne Marie Kaufmann at akaufmann@trinity.org (202) 903-2832 for more information.

LGBTQIA+ MINISTRY

Holy Trinity's commitment to accompany one another in Christ invites us to be more deeply aware of the diversity of our community and more welcoming to those who are marginalized by society or the Church. Our lay-led ministry embraces individuals who are lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender, questioning/queer, intersex, asexual and their families and friends. More information and upcoming meetings can be found at www.trinity.org/lgbtqia or by e-mailing LGBTQIA@trinity.org.

PARISH PASTORAL COUNCIL (PPC)

PPC members share leadership responsibility with our pastor. As advisors to the pastor, PPC members assist the pastor in discerning, articulating and communicating to other parishioners the identity and mission of the parish, and they assist the pastor in assuring fidelity to that identity and mission. Contact PPC President Malcolm McCluskey at parishcouncil@trinity.org with any questions.

Those who are gluten intolerant and wish to receive Holy Communion should speak with a Mass coordinator, stationed near the entrance of the Church, before Mass begins.
