

HOLY TRINITY CATHOLIC CHURCH

October 4, 2026

Twenty-seventh Sunday in Ordinary Time

FROM THE PASTOR'S DESK

by Fr. C. Kevin Gillespie, S.J.

As the leaves begin to turn and a new autumn unfolds, I find myself especially grateful for the many ways God has blessed Holy Trinity—and hopeful for the ways in which we are being called to light the way for generations yet to come.

The change of seasons is always an invitation to pause. Summer brings a different rhythm to parish life: vacations, travel, family gatherings and a somewhat quieter pace. Yet this summer was filled with occasions that invited us to remember who we are as a parish, where we have come from, and where God may be leading us.

Most especially, we celebrated the 175th anniversary of our main church building. For 175 years, this sacred space has been a place where generations have gathered to worship, celebrate, grieve, seek forgiveness, receive the Eucharist and encounter the living God.

Think of all that our church has witnessed! Generations have passed through its doors. Children have been baptized, couples married, young people confirmed, and loved ones commended to God. Through wars and times of peace, national celebrations and national tragedies, our church has remained a place of prayer and hope.

Our 175th anniversary, therefore, celebrated much more than a building. It celebrated a living community of faith. It also reminded me that Holy Trinity's history is not simply something behind us. We are now part of that history, and we have a responsibility for the chapter we are writing today.

That realization was particularly meaningful to me this summer as Fr. Jack Dennis and I celebrated the 40th anniversary of our ordination as Jesuit priests. Forty years of priesthood and 175 years of Holy Trinity's history came together in a way that I found deeply moving.

To mark my anniversary, about fifty parishioners and I made a one-day pilgrimage to St. Thomas Manor and Historic St. Mary's City in Southern Maryland, places deeply connected with the beginnings of Catholic life in Maryland and with the history of the Jesuits in this region. As we prayed and traveled together, I found myself thinking about the generations of Catholics who came before us. They could not have imagined what the Church in Maryland would become. Yet they prayed, worshiped, served and handed on their faith. We are the beneficiaries of their courage and fidelity.

That pilgrimage reminded me of something fundamental about both the Church and Holy Trinity: we are pilgrims. We receive a faith we did not create. We live that faith in our own time. And then we are called to hand it on to those who will come after us.

That is particularly meaningful to me as this past week, I complete eleven years as your pastor. During these years, I have come to appreciate more deeply what makes Holy Trinity such a remarkable parish: our Eucharistic life, our Ignatian spirituality, our commitment to social justice, our love of education, our concern for those who are searching for faith, and the extraordinary generosity of our parishioners.

I am especially grateful for Holy Trinity School, now in its 208th year. Every morning when our children walk through the doors of the school, we are reminded that the future of Holy Trinity is already among us. Their questions, energy, faith, and hopes challenge us to ask what kind of parish we want to hand on to the next generation.

Our Ignatian Spirituality Program reminds us that none of us ever finishes growing in faith. Through retreats, spiritual direction, faith-sharing, Christian meditation and the Spiritual Exercises, we continue to ask the question at the heart of Ignatian spirituality: Where is God at work—in my life, in our parish and in our world?

That question leads naturally to Lighting the Way, our capital campaign for the future of Holy Trinity. The campaign is rooted in the conviction that if we are to hand on the gift of Holy Trinity to another generation, we must invest in the mission entrusted to us. Lighting the Way supports important priorities including our Ignatian identity, our young people, social justice, and our liturgical life.

I am grateful that the campaign has been making significant progress toward our goal, and we thank those who have chosen to invest in the future of this community. In the coming months, we will continue the work of reaching out to many more parishioners.

There is much to look forward to this autumn. Our Faith Formation programs have begun again. Our children and young people are returning to school and parish programs. Our OCIA community is accompanying those exploring the Catholic faith. Our Social Justice ministries continue accompanying migrants and refugees and serving those experiencing poverty and homelessness. Our choirs, ministries, small faith communities, and countless volunteers are once again filling our campus with life.

Our Ignatian tradition will also be alive in the months ahead, including the “Abiding in God’s Love” Ignatian retreat in daily life. Through these and many other opportunities for prayer, formation, service, and community, we continue to discover that God is present not only in extraordinary moments but in the ordinary circumstances of our lives.

As autumn begins, I am reminded that every season has its own grace. Perhaps this one can be a season of gratitude for what we have received and hope for what we are becoming.

I am grateful for our parish and school employees, our teachers and administrators, our Jesuit community, and the extraordinary number of volunteers who give their time, talent and energy to Holy Trinity. Above all, I am grateful for you, the people of Holy Trinity, who make this parish a living community of faith.

One hundred seventy-five years ago, generations of parishioners gathered in our church. Today, we gather in that same sacred space. Tomorrow, another generation will enter through those doors.

As I begin another autumn with you, I do so with profound gratitude—for eleven years as your pastor, for forty years as a Jesuit priest, for the 175-year story of this remarkable Church building, and for the privilege of being part of its continuing story.

May God give us grateful hearts for all that has been, generous hearts for all that is, and hopeful hearts for all that is to come.

And may Holy Trinity’s abiding presence continue to shine brightly—not only for us, but for generations to come.

The story of Holy Trinity continues. And by God’s grace, we look forward to writing its next chapter together.

2027 IMMERSION EXPERIENCES

The Social Justice Ministry works to provide opportunities for parishioners to be in proximity of marginalized communities locally and outside of the DMV. We believe that proximity "bridges the gap between abstract data and real-world impact, replacing passive "awareness" with empathetic, informed, and transformative action." It challenges "othering" and provides an opportunity to listen to the people directly impacted by injustice.

Immersion Experience in Alabama with Catholic Mobilizing Network (Jan 7-10, 2027) Plans are underway for our 4th pilgrimage to Montgomery and Selma. Registration is open until November 1. Register

Family Experience in El Salvador with Building Futures (August 2027) In August 2027, a group of families from Holy Trinity will travel to San Salvador, El Salvador with the Building Futures Project for a week-long hand-on service and cultural immersion experience. THANK YOU FROM THE MIGRANT FAMILIA!

Members of seven families attended Camp Trinity last weekend - thank you to those who sponsored a family or individual! From our families: My family and I are extremely grateful for the beautiful trip; it was a wonderful, unforgettable experience. We met many lovely people, and our son is happy—he absolutely loved the forest hike; a special thank you to everyone at Holy Trinity and the entire staff. You gave my family and me a beautiful experience that we will always remember. We had a wonderful time at Shrine Mont, and felt very warmly welcomed. A big thank you for coordinating everything and making this experience so special. We truly appreciate you all!

NEW DESKS FOR STUDENTS IN HAITI!

The St. Jean Baptiste Haiti Team met with Pere Lesley last month. Pere Lesley shared photos of students returning to school and shared updates on various projects. Holy Trinity provided the $3,500 needed to make new classroom furniture for approximately 80 sixth graders. A local carpenter made the desks, benches, and cabinets over the summer. Père Lesly thanks everyone at Holy Trinity for making this new furniture possible. He wrote: "Each classroom has about 40 students. This work was carried out by Kesnel, who is also our church bell ringer. He set up his workshop right at the school." The next meeting will be November 19 over Zoom. If you would like to join the St. Jean Baptiste Team, please email hdomenici@trinity.org
